OUR LOCAL CANDIDATES

FOR CITY COUNCIL

As Manhattan BP, Gale has led the way on creating more affordable housing, fighting for sensible development, & supporting small businesses across the borough.

As City Council member for District 6, she helped pass Paid Sick Leave for hourly workers & helped lead the fight against racial injustice, passing the Fair Chance Act to tackle discrimination in hiring.

Gale Brewer
District 6

Shaun Abreu
District 7

Born and raised in Washington Heights and the Upper West Side by working-class, immigrant parents, Shaun Abreu knows the issues our families face because he's experienced them first-hand. Seeing his family evicted from their home as a child, Shaun was inspired to become a tenant rights attorney. A graduate of Columbia College and Tulane Law School, he has spent years advocating for our community, and he'll keep fighting for us in City Hall.

FOR STATE SENATE, SPECIAL ELECTION

Cordell Cleare
State Senate District 30

Cordell Cleare is the ideal candidate to succeed Brian Benjamin, who became our Lt. Governor. As a single mom whose own children were exposed to lead paint, she took on the big landlords and helped pass the Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Act. She's fighting to make our neighborhoods safer by combating gun violence, ending racial disparities, and reforming criminal justice. Cordell lives in Harlem, she's worked for the Upper West Side, she has the skills and the passion to be our diverse district's champion.
